

2007 Fair Hill Classic

Mountain Bike Race

Sunday July 15, 2007

One of the most popular cross-country mountain bike races on the East Coast, the 12th Annual Fair Hill Classic is scheduled for Sunday, July 15 and will be part of the Mid-Atlantic Super Series (MASS). As in previous years, the 2007 course has no laps - just miles of sweet singletrack in the 5,600-acre Fair Hill Natural Resources Management Area near Newark, Delaware. This year's race features all of the best trails in Fair Hill. Who can resist Punctured Lung, Upchuck, Crack Head Bob and the ever-popular Disneyland?

We have categories for First Time Beginner, Advanced Beginner, Sport and Elite racers of all ages and genders, including single-speeders, as well as the ever-popular Kid's Race. Even if you don't participate in the race, come on out to watch the action. We will have lots of viewing areas to set up your easy chair and enjoy the excitement. You can even get a massage!

So come and get it! Great trails, super race, fantastic prizes, plenty of excitement, lots of refreshments, fun for the whole family. You don't want to miss it!

class	distance	start time
First Time Beginners*	5 miles	8:30 AM
Advanced Beginners	12 miles	9:00 AM
Sport	23 miles	11:00 AM
Elite	29 miles	9:45 AM
Kid's race (under 12)	~1 mile	1:15 PM

* First Time Beginners will be scored separate from the MASS series
